"Hijacked" Scotland Missions Blog Removed from E-Blogger

December 7, 2007

Greetings!

On November 9, 2007 we sent all of our subscribers a note stating that our Scotland Missions Blog had been "Hijacked" and was "Phishing".

On the same day we sent E-Blogger [Google, Inc.] a folder of documentation to "prove" that our own personal Blog content had indeed been stolen and abused.

The Blogger Legal Support Team at Google, Inc. has just contacted us and informed us that they have safely removed our Scotland Missions Blog altogether.

Google, Inc., as a matter of their own policy, is proceeding to look into this matter as it is a criminal activity to hack into websites and steal information.

Please note that this incident DOES NOT affect any of our subscribers on our email list.

For those of you who prayed for us in regards to this, THANK YOU !

Sincerely in Christ,

Chris Lawson
